Maryland rebuilds quickly, starts 15-0

By Laura Boswell
USA TODAY

Volleyball

This was supposed to be a rebuilding year.

Maryland, which went 26-5 last year and 16-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, lost some seasoned players and with them the chance to repeat as conference champion or to return to the NCAA women's volleyball tournament.

Or so it appeared.

Daune Koester, 1996 ACC player of the year, graduated. Middle hitter Cooya Jabarin-Kitwala had a baby in May and wasn't expected to be back in time for the start of the season. First team all-ACC outside hitter Elizabeth Efron, after playing for the Argentine national team and having reconstructive knee surgery, had no eligibility left.

For experience, Maryland would have to cling to returning all-ACC setter Eden Kroeger. The Terrapins, picked to finish fourth in the ACC, braced for a long season.

"We were definitely looking at some significant adjustments," coach Patricia Kruger says. "No one really knew how the team would develop this year."

It's at 15-0 (6-0 ACC) and [illegible] with Maryland.

Kroeger, who has 4,541 career assists and countless to add to her school record, feels the drive goes deeper. "We have a lot of heart. We don't go into a match thinking we're undefeated. If anything, it makes teams want to beat us even more."

Especially ACC teams. Maryland already has beaten North Carolina, Duke and Florida State.

Some of the real tests are to come, including visits to Clemson and Georgia Tech next weekend.

"We can never relax," says Efron, who has been ACC player of the week twice. "We are always learning about the other teams. What they do, who hits where. We have to be prepared, because everyone is out to beat us."

Expect The Unexpected

Not much was expected from Maryland this season. But a new offensive philosophy has led to an undefeated record (12-0). With a dominating tandem of middle blockers leading the way, the Terrapins are firing on all cylinders, writes Dave Reed. Story

Kruger hits 700 and keeps counting

Coach points credit towards her former teachers

By Jason Fraley
For The Daily Nebraskan

Call it modesty. Call it class. Either way, after Terrapin volleyball head coach Janice Kruger notched her 700th career victory last Saturday night, she simply shook hands with the opposing team and smiled.

Kruger has been shaking hands for 27 years and has four ACC and American Volleyball Coaches Association Region Coach of the Year selections. She is seventh all-time in NCAA Division I wins, has brought home four ACC championships (two tournament titles in the past two years) and appeared in six NCAA Tournaments.

"Her feat in her 700th win is something that is unparalleled," said Davis Whitfield, ACC Assistant Commissioner for Championships. "We are certainly fortunate to have her and so is the University of Maryland.

"As a coach, as a person and as a representative of the ACC, she certainly is a model we can all look to in regards to success and conducting a program with the utmost consistency," Whitfield said.

Kruger has been consistent to the tune of 19 wins per season over the last 17 years.

Yet when it came time to bask in her achievements, Kruger deflected the spotlight.

"I think that anytime you reach any type of milestone like that, there are so many factors that play a part of that success," Kruger said. "I had great teachers and coaches who instilled important aspects of coaching in me. I learned along the way from many great people."

The list of these "great people," she said, begins in Nebraska with a junior high chemistry teacher, Mr. Beardshear. She couldn't remember his first name.

"He loved the game and always did whatever he could do to get the edge," Kruger said. "He worked with me a lot and was responsible for me becoming a scholarship player at the University of Nebraska."

As captain of the Nebraska volleyball team, Kruger fell under the guidance of head coach Patricia Sullivan, whom Kruger described as one of her favorite people in the world.

"In some ways, Janice was a coach's dream," Sullivan said. "She's incredibly competitive, fearless, willing to do anything at all ... and she can pick up things quickly. That's probably one of the things that makes her strong as a coach."

After graduating from Nebraska in 1977, Kruger got her first head coaching position at Platte Technical Community College in Columbus, Neb.

After a 23-9 season that qualified her team for the national junior college tournament, she was named head coach at Nebraska-Omaha, where she amassed a 352-96-6 record over nine seasons and made four trips to the NCAA Division II Final Four.

Then, in 1988, Kruger became a Terp — an event that would change ACC volleyball history. Just two years after her arrival, the Terps won their first ACC title.

"She has the ability to motivate you as a player," said Nicole Welch, a setter for the Terps from 1990 to 1993. "She can be intense and get on you when she needs to, but also can have some fun and goof around when she needs to."

But beyond the accolades and victories, Kruger said her most rewarding accomplishment has been seeing former players go on to coach.

Welch is one such example, who went 11-5 with the Hurricanes last season as head coach for the University of Miami — second in the ACC.

"I haven't had a lot of time to watch a lot of my former players coach, but when I do, it's always a real treat," Kruger said. "When the time comes that I'm not going to do this anymore, I'm definitely going to go watch them more."

But the time for retirement seems far in the future. Kruger will start towards 800 wins tonight against Pittsburgh Invitational.

"I think I love the energy in the gym," Kruger said. "And I think being in college athletics is special, to be able to be in an atmosphere that's always about winning and doing your best and competing.

"A lot of things do stay the same [illegible] the years. But there are also a [illegible] different, and

COACHING EXCELLENCE

1 :: Janice Kruger has been named ACC Coach of the Year four times (1990, 1996, 1997 and 2003).

MEDIA EXPOSURE

2 :: Maryland plays in one of the nation's largest media markets and has been featured in several national publications and on ESPN.com last season.

THE MARYLAND COACHING PIPELINE

3 :: Several former Terps can be found patrolling collegiate sidelines. Among them are Nicole Lantagne-Welch (1990-93), head coach at the University of Miami (Fla.) and Carrie Muenzer (1994-95), assistant coach at Central Michigan.

A CHAMPIONSHIP PROGRAM

4 :: The Terps have won five ACC titles (1990, 1996, 2003, 2004 & 2005) during Coach Kruger's tenure in College Park and have made seven trips to the NCAA tournament.

AWARD WINNERS

5 :: Setter Eden Kroeger (left) was an All-American and the ACC Player of the Year in 1997, while 2000 graduate Beth Murphy (right) was honored by the ACC with the presitigious Weaver-James-Corrigan Award.

AMONG THE ELITE

6 :: The 1997 Terps are one of only 10 teams in NCAA history to go undefeated in the regular season, posting a 25-0 record.

COMCAST CENTER

7 :: Maryland's student activities building and home of Terrapin Athletics was completed in fall 2002 and is the home of Maryland volleyball.

In the short time the Terrapins have called Comcast Center Pavilion home, it has already seen its share of historic moments. The Terps updended then-No. 4 Georgia Tech, 3-2, on Nov. 1, 2003 for the biggest upset in program history. And when ACC Champion Maryland earned an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament, Comcast Center was selected as a host site.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly 700 student-athletes on 27 teams. In addition to the 17,950-seat basketball arena, the additional 1,500-seat venue is home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and the Sprint Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, news conferences, large meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition floor.

2007 SEASON OUTLOOK

TERRAPINS TO RELY ON IMPROVED DEPTH, LEADERSHIP IN 2007.

After a disappointing 11th-place conference finish last season, the University of Maryland's volleyball program hopes its improved depth and leadership will raise the level of play back to where it was when the Terrapins won three straight Atlantic Coast Conference titles from 2003-05.

Maryland head coach Janice Kruger adds a talented freshman class of five to this year's roster, which lost Tina Aramburu and Teryn Papp to graduation, giving her 16 athletes from which to work. The incoming class of Rachel Profit, Michelle Kenning, Brittney Grove, Bethany Springer and Inge Rasmussen will add important depth throughout the Terrapins' roster, which Kruger believes will help the team in preparation for the new season.

"The increased depth is important for us, as far as practice purposes, competition purposes and determining positions," Kruger said. "We have a good freshmen class, which will push everybody. I think this class is good to go."

As beneficial as the new freshmen are expected to be, Kruger knows the talented senior class of Jade Brown and Beth Gillming needs to take ownership of the team.

So far, Kruger is pleased with what she has seen from her top trio of attackers.

"Jade and Beth have really only had one year of being looked to for leadership and there is a different sense about them this season," Kruger said. "The players were not pleased with our outcome last year (13-18, 6-16). Everybody is focused and a little more driven to change that and be the one who is going to make the difference."

With Jade Brown, junior Mary Beth Brown, Gillming and junior Maggie Schmelzle, the Terps appear solid at the outside hitter position. The middle blocker spot also appears to be in good shape with the combination of sophomores Meredith Doyle, Katie Usher and Kathleen Wilson and Grove. Junior Tedi Doucet and sophomore Hayley Hanson give the Terps two solid setters. The position most up in the air is libero, where Kruger expects a tough battle between Profit and Springer for the starting nod.

Maryland was picked to finish ninth in the ACC's preseason poll, but as long as the team stays healthy and focused, Kruger believes the Terps can do better.

"The challenge is going to be getting 16 players all working to compete against each other, but also have one common goal," Kruger said. "That's the bottom line."

Jade Brown

Beth Gillming

Tedi Doucet

OUTSIDE HITTERS

Led by two-time second team All-ACC selection Jade Brown, the outside hitter position is expected to be the strength of the 2007 Terrapins. Brown and Gillming are both Preseason All-ACC picks and, combined with Mary Beth Brown and Schmelzle, Maryland returns 67 percent of its kill production from a year ago.

Jade Brown was far and away the Terps' leading attacker in 2006, pacing the team with 427 kills, 3.81 kills per game and 1,127 total attempts.

"This is her chance to see if she can get into the upper echelon of the ACC. I believe she can with just a little more stable performance all-around," Kruger said of Jade Brown.

Gillming, who finished second on the team in kills last season with 246, will pair up with Schmelzle to give Maryland a pair of solid ball-control players on the outside. Gillming is a stat-sheet stuffer, registering 57 assists, 32 service aces, 355 digs and 65 blocks in 2006.

Mary Beth Brown is a versatile threat in Maryland's arsenal, registering 235 kills on offense and 115 blocks on defense in 2006.

"If we get those four really hitting on all cylinders, in combination with our middles, we'll definitely be in good shape."

Kenning is an explosive attacker who figures to play a more prominent role on the outside in the future and could work her way into the rotation. Kenning is joined by Ashley Hogan and Rasmussen.

SETTERS

Although the Terps lost Papp, the cupboard is hardly bare, as far as the setter position is concerned. Doucet and Hanson will both see plenty of playing time in Kruger's 6-2 offense. Doucet received plenty of valuable experience last year alongside Papp, notching 466 assists and 145 digs.

The early returns on Doucet as the team's top setter have been encouraging.

"Tedi had a light bulb go off in the spring and she understood a lot of the offensive speed that we're looking for with our system," Kruger said.

Hanson played in 85 games as a freshman, recording 298 assists and 111 digs while leading the team in hitting percentage at .310.

Profit could also see time at setter if needed. Projected as a libero, Profit has setting experience from her high school career and is one of the better athletes on the team already.

MIDDLE BLOCKERS

With the 6-foot-5-inch Doyle, 6-foot-3-inch Usher and 6-foot-1-inch Wilson, Maryland has plenty of presence at the middle blocker role.

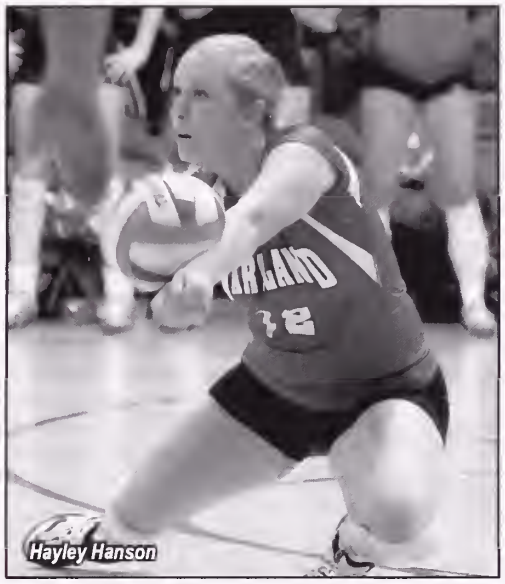
Usher was an immediate force for the Terps last season, playing in 120 games and leading the team in blocks with 188. She was fourth in kills with 175.

Wilson is coming off a solid sophomore campaign which saw her register a team third-best in blocks with 80, to go along with 83 kills.

The key to the middle blocker position, however, could lie in Doyle. Kruger is excited about Doyle's potential, assuming her back holds up after off-season surgery.

"Her presence at the net is substantial, being 6-5," Kruger said. "She plays pretty high and I expect a good season out of her."

Grove is expected to challenge for playing time in the middle, as well. Early on, Kruger has been impressed with the 6-foot-1-inch freshman's quickness and competitive spirit.



Hayley Hanson

LIBERO

Arguably the most interesting position heading into the 2007 season is at libero.

Kruger expects a pair of freshmen – Profit and Springer – to fight for the job.

Profit was a well-decorated player at Maret School in Washington, D.C. Profit was a four-time first-team all-ISL performer, the D.C. Gatorade Player of the Year as a senior and the Washington Post D.C. All-Extra Player of the Year in her final high school campaign. Profit also excelled in softball and basketball.

The 5-foot-10-inch Springer was a standout at Thomas Johnson High School in Frederick, Md. Springer captained the Patriots in 2005 and 2006 and was the Frederick News Post's player of the year as a junior and senior, as well.

Sophomore Christina Paul will also compete for playing time at the position.

"I expect that those three will really battle it out in practice. It will be a good competition," Kruger said.

Kathleen Wilson

SCHEDULE

The 2007 season starts early with the Terps heading west to Cincinnati, Ohio, on Aug. 24 for the University of Cincinnati Invitational. During the two-day tournament, Maryland will play Oakland, Southern Miss and the host Bearcats. The road trip will act as a homecoming of sorts for Gillming, Schmelzle and Kenning, who all attended St. Ursula Academy in Cincinnati.

A week after the Cincinnati trip, Maryland travels south to Richmond, Va., for the Virginia Commonwealth University Invitational where it will play Liberty, South Carolina and VCU.

The team finally gets to play in front of the home fans Sept. 7 and Sept. 8 in the Hilton Garden Inn Greenbelt Invitational, where matches against James Madison, New Hampshire and Temple await.

ACC play starts Sept. 15 with a road match at Boston College, followed a week later with away contests at defending conference champion Duke and Wake Forest, marking the ninth road/neutral game in the first 12 matches of the season.

The schedule finally begins to normalize Oct. 5, with alternating home stands and road trips. The Terps host North Carolina and NC State, travel to Virginia and Virginia Tech, host Florida State, Miami and Boston College, travel to Georgia Tech and Clemson, and host Wake Forest and Duke.

The team then embarks on consecutive weekend trips to NC State/North Carolina on Nov. 2 and Nov. 4 before taking in some sun at Miami and Florida State on Nov. 9 and Nov. 10.

The early road-heavy schedule balances out at the tail end of the season with four consecutive home matches to close things out.

The rival Cavaliers of Virginia come to town Nov. 16, with Virginia Tech visiting the next day.

The Clemson Tigers and Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets put a cap on the 2007 season Nov. 21 and Nov. 23, respectively.

This will be the third year of the 11-opponent, double-round robin ACC schedule and there will be no conference tournament. The regular-season champion will receive an automatic bid to the 64-team NCAA Tournament, which begins Nov. 29. The 64 teams that make the tournament will try to earn a spot in Sacramento, Calif., where the NCAA semifinals and championship take place on Dec. 13 and Dec. 15.

HEAD COACH JANICE KRUGER

20TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 30TH SEASON OVERALL • NEBRASKA '77

Maryland volleyball head coach Janice Kruger's career accomplishments have reached an apex in recent years: five ACC titles, seven trips to the NCAA Tournament, five ACC and AVCA Region Coach of the Year honors and the top spot among all-time winningest coaches in ACC Volleyball history.

Kruger boasts an impressive .652 overall winning percentage since the 2003 season. After winning the ACC Championship in 2004 with an 18-15 season record, the Terps improved to 28-5 in 2005 to win their third-consecutive ACC Championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the third straight year. Maryland eased past Kentucky in the first round of the 2005 NCAA's, before dropping a close contest to Louisville.

The AVCA named Kruger the East Region Coach of the Year in 2005, marking the fifth time she won the award. In 2003, Kruger was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year after leading Maryland to the ACC Championship. Kruger became the ACC's all-time winningest coach that year and now, heading into the 2007 season, ranks first in conference history with 363 victories at Maryland.

After nearly two decades as one of the top coaches in the ACC, Kruger is set to embark on her 20th season as head coach of the Terrapins. With 738 career victories, Kruger has built a powerful program in College Park that includes ACC titles in 1990, 1996, 2003, 2004, 2005 and trips to the NCAA Tournament in 1990, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004 and 2005. Kruger's success has not gone without notice, as she has been named both the ACC and AVCA District/Region Coach of the Year in 1990, 1996, 1997, 2003 and 2005. During her coaching career, Kruger has amassed an amazing 738-340-6 mark, including a stellar 363-235 record in College Park.

With an impressive track record at both Maryland and her previous school, Nebraska-Omaha, Kruger is considered one of the elite coaches in the country. She ranks seventh all-time among active coaches in victories at four-year colleges with 715.

The 2005 season marked two significant milestones for Kruger. First, she surpassed the 700 career-victory mark after the third game of the season and notched her 350th Maryland win in the match over Kentucky in the NCAA Tournament. In addition, the Terrapins were undefeated in the Comcast Center, posting a 14-0 record as well as winning 14 consecutive matches to start the season, another school record.

In 2002, Kruger guided the Terps to an 11-0 start, the longest winning streak to begin a season in Maryland history at that point. In 2001, she led Maryland to its 700th win as a volleyball program on Oct. 7 in a 3-1 victory over NC State at Ritchie Coliseum. In 32 seasons of volleyball at Maryland, just two coaches, Kruger and Barb Drum, have guided the Terps, combining for a remarkable record of 820-462 (.640 winning percentage.)

In 1996, Kruger's Terps became the first ACC team to finish a conference schedule 16-0. Maryland closed that magical season by winning the ACC for the first time in six years. One year later, Kruger led Maryland to an even more impressive feat, as the Terps completed the 1997 regular season with an overall record of 25-0. In the process, Maryland became just the eighth team in the nation to roll through the regular season without a defeat. The Terps finished that historic year by reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year.

Under Kruger's guidance, many players have flourished in the Maryland program. In 1997, Eden Kroeger became the first Terp to earn All-American honors. That same year, Kroeger also became the third player during Kruger's tenure to earn ACC Player of the Year honors (Colleen Hurley in 1990 and Duane Koester in 1992 are the others).

In 2005, four Terrapins garnered All-ACC honors (Rachel Wagener, first team; Stephanie Smith, first team; Jade Brown, second team, Maggie Schmelzle, freshmen team). Additionally, Wagener and Smith were named AVCA Honorable Mention All-Americans, while Smith, Stephanie Doiron and Beth Gillming received All-ACC Academic honors.

Since Kruger came to Maryland in 1988, the Terps have had 31 All-ACC selections and 15 all-district picks.

What has made Kruger's program at Maryland all the more impressive is the emphasis put on academic excellence. Since 1988, nearly 50 players have been named to the ACC Honor Roll at least once during their careers at Maryland, including ACC Players of the Year Hurley, Koester, and Kroeger. A Maryland volleyball player has received the prestigious Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholar-Athlete Award from the Atlantic Coast Conference four times. Shannon Saltzman earned the award in 1997, Eden Kroeger was honored in 1998, Beth Murphy earned the impressive award in 1999, and Kathy Shahrokh most recently won it in 2004.

ASSISTANT COACH

Shanghai Physical Education Institute '86
Ninth year at Maryland

After four years as head coach at UMBC, Felix Hou returned to Maryland in 2003 as an assistant to the team that he helped lead to a perfect 25-0 record in 1997. Hou, who coached with the Terps from 1995-98, brings a wealth of knowledge on volleyball and 19 years of coaching experience at the university, club and national levels. During his four years at Maryland in the 1990s, the team was 89-32, winning the ACC Championship once and making three consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. With Hou's help, the Terrapins have captured three ACC titles and earned three NCAA Tournament berths.

While at UMBC, Hou was named the 2000 Northeast Conference Coach of the Year after leading the Retrievers to a 19-13 record and a regular-season NEC Championship that year.

Prior to his arrival at Maryland in 1995, Hou spent two years as the assistant coach for the Yohan women's volleyball professional team in Hong Kong, as well as, the coach for Iceland's national team, and the men's and women's teams at Iceland University. Before moving to Iceland, he coached the Chinese national women's youth team, and the Beijing women's team. As a coach, Hou has delivered seven players to the Chinese National Team, and six to the Iceland National Team.

As a player, Hou played seven years for the Chinese National Team, missing the 1980 Olympic Games because of the country's boycott. The 1980 Chinese team recorded an undefeated record in world competition.

Hou earned a bachelor's degree in coaching management from Shanghai Physical Education Institute in 1986. He has two daughters, Lucy and Mary.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—centers for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the National Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 2006 opera production was declared by the Washington Post music critic "... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this side of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
NINTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nanotechnology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 14TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 14th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 13-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 15 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. In January 2008, she will become a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 13 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $56 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.

  Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable six national championships during the past two seasons.
- In 2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $31 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 14 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006-07 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps beat Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only nine universities to win the National Championship in football and men's basketball and is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the only other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the fifth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of the past five seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Kathy Nelson Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past five years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the $130 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events – part of a remarkable $250 million upgrade and expansion of athletics facilities during Dr. Yow's leadership of Maryland Athletics.
- In 2006-07, 24 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 13 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

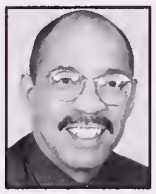
ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.



Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Don Pearman works with the Maryland volleyball team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

HOME OF THE TERRAPINS

BALTIMORE

So much, so close... It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus. City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes, jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations, shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay.
